Resources

The tragic shooting on Tuesday, May 24th in Texas, has left us heartbroken, devastated, and angry. We know that it wasn't easy as educators to go back into your classrooms and yet again, have a conversation about gun violence and safety in our schools. It has shaken us to the core. In the aftermath of such a tragedy, children will have fears and questions and will look to the adults around them for answers. Thank you for showing up, loving our students and having these conversations that no one should have to have....again. Here are several resources recommended by SCOE to assist you.

Tips For Parents and Teachers, Tips for Administrators,

Talking with Children About Tragic Events, Supporting Your Child During Stressful Times

The gun violence afflicting our students and the adults who teach them requires more than just these words and resources. If you wish to advocate at the national or state level, please contact your members of Congress, the California Legislature, President Joe Biden, and Gov. Gavin Newsom.

We grieve with and for Robb Elementary School.

Staff Spotlight and Summer Shutdown

Larry Hendrickson is a quiet force around CRPUSD. You may have seen him driving one of our box trucks, delivering COVID supplies to your site, pushing a dolly around, or coaching the Technology High School Boys Baseball team. Baseball is his passion, having once played for the Minors. This year, his pitching expertise, brought the THS team to the playoffs. Thank you Larry for your dedication to our district. However, his dedication goes beyond the baseball field. He is also known as our Energy Education Specialist and cares about saving energy. Summertime is almost here and this is your opportunity to help Larry before you leave for the summer. As you get ready for break, please take the time to prepare your classroom for the summer shutdown by turning off and unplugging items, clean out and unplug small refrigerators, and close blinds. As a reminder, the HVAC system will automatically turn off during break. If you have any questions please reach out to larry_hendrickson@crpusd.org
